Introduction to the Fraction

- □□□□□□ ϣ□ □□□□□□□□ □□□□□□ We worship Your holy Body...
  □□□ □□□□□□ ϥ □□□□□□□□□ And Your precious Blood...
  - In the 1902 Euchologion it says: "The congregation says this response according to most of the new books, but in the old books, this response does not exist" (pg. 385)
  - In the Manuscript of the Paris Euchologion, the response does not exist
  - This response does not exist in the Liturgy of St. Gregory or the Liturgy of St. Cyril
  - There is no deacon response telling the congregation to worship here, and this is the role of the deacon: to instruct the congregation in all of their motions
    - Pray for...
    - Stand, Look towards the East, Let us attend, Offer
    - "Let us sing Alleluia" (Confession preceding distribution Alleluia)
  - The Liturgy of St. Basil addresses God the Father, but this response addresses God the Son
  - In 2016, the Rites Committee of the Holy Synod studied and discussed these responses with the recommendation of changing it to "We worship the Holy Body... and the Precious Blood"
